34° INTERNATIONAL LABORATORY
FORMATION AND RESEARCH GATHERING

august 18/27

directed by Cristina Castrillo
and Bruna Gusberti

...inprogress

SUBJECT

In its long journey, the international laboratory has always tried to deepen the tools that are the basis of a representation technique. This development has privileged the actor's creative role and given great space to research those personal aspects that determine one's own expressive identity.

In this new gathering, it has been decided that the central theme will be a choice made by each participant, a draft that each one wishes to explore further, an idea that has not yet managed to take shape, a need that has become bogged down or simply a work material waiting to be shaped.

Therefore, the usual work of physical preparation and development of the introspective world that underlies the creative technique of Teatro delle Radici and Cristina Castrillo will be applied in deepening each personal proposal, a work in progress. It will be a space to experience, in addition to the formative approach, the possibility of being followed directly in constructing one's own idea.

Participants will be present during the entire planned period.

Each participant must practically present their proposal, a draft, or a part of it (10 minutes), and bring materials, objects, or costumes that they believe will be useful in the process.
